Dear Jackie,

Please find attached our draft contract brief for the proposed work on Parabell.

The brief includes the aims/objectives/outputs etc, along with a detailed workload modelling and overall costs. Importantly, this is a draft proposal, and we would like to get your input into:

- the scope of the project (are there any tasks you do not want us to do; or alternatively tasks you want included in the contract?)
- the budget (is this in the 'ballpark'?)

Once we finalise this document, I can then forward it to our Research Development office for processing, which will need about five people's approval before it can then be sent to Chris Devery for actioning from NSWPF side of the contact. Our development office has reviewed the standard NSWPF research contract, and can see no problems with approving this type of contract (including the provisions relating to intellectual property).

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact me on [REDACTED].

Regards,
 Nicole

Hi Nicole,

Sorry I am only just back at work this morning and saw this.

I am back now but working shorter days and taking work home as my pooch is trapped inside recovering.

Best idea is probably to call my mobile in the afternoon - today, tomorrow or Friday - and we can chat more. I also got a msg from Ange suggesting it may be something you could both do together??

My number is [REDACTED] - I should be available from around 2pm any of these days.

Jackie

Hi Jackie,

I apologise for not ringing today. I totally lost track of time, and have just finished working on a journal article I've been working on all day – such a nerdish excuse! I am free after 12 tomorrow; are you free to chat briefly? Feel free to call me on the

Hi Nicole,

Tomorrow is good but I am working from home - my little pooch has to go in for major surgery and I want to be close by :(In fact I plan to read as many Parrabell cases as I can - I am feeding back to Cameron and the team on language and anything else I notice.

Happy to talk by phone if technology allows the three of us to talk?? or you and I - whatever you think best.

My mobile is [REDACTED]

cheers

Hi Jackie,

Thank you for the invitation to review the work of the team on Strikeforce Parabell. I briefly spoke with Ange today, and we would like to submit a quote for our combined efforts (and if necessary, RA support from a PhD student). However, it would be good to have a chat first to ensure that we know exactly what will be required (as this will impact on the quote). Is there a good time for you over the next couple of days?

Regards,
Nicole

Hi Nicole, Ange

How are you both? Hope you are well and had a bit of a break over xmas/new year.

That said I hope you are back at work to read this! :)

As you know (Nicole at least) we (Strikeforce Parabell) are currently reviewing the '88' alleged 'gay hate murder cases' over the 80s/90s mentioned in various media reports including the more recent media coverage relating to Scott Johnson. (They are excluding this case because it is currently under investigation by the coroner).

There is a small team of three detectives and they are producing reports on each case utilising indicators adapted by Sgt Geoff Steer.

Anyway, Supt Crandell is really keen to ensure that whatever we produce is verified by an independent researcher. Not exactly sure what this might entail but it would be reading all the reports and access to police data and I guess making comment on the cases and findings.

I wanted to first sound you both out on your interest and availability - whether you would do it yourselves or have a PHD student for example do it under your supervision.

We would prefer someone who is neither actively 'pro' or anti' police ... which kinda rules out a few others you and I could probably think of!

If you are interested we would then be looking for a quote and would look at our capacity to fund it.

Let me know your thoughts.

Cheers

Jackie
