Brief Description: Arthur ASHWORTH was the last person to see the deceased alive and was then the person who located him. ASHWORTH was originally found to be a friend of the deceased.

On the 14/10/2011 and 26/10/2011 DSC Hungerford spoke to David BRUCE from DAL and he advised police that a mixed profile of ASHWORTH and DUTFIELD had been located on the cardigan. The cardigan was located in the deceased unit and had some blood staining on it. The origin of the mixed profile is not from the blood staining and further work is still to be conducted however at this stage they are waiting on the advice for police to advise them of the coroners view on the investigation.
