Place: Manly Police StationInquest touching the death of David Lloyd-WilliamsDate: 24th August, 1978Name: Anna Louisa WORTON
(Surname in capitals)Address: [REDACTED] Tel. No. [REDACTED]Occupation: Housewife STATES:—

My full name is Anna Loiusa Worton and I reside at [REDACTED]. I had known the deceased David Lloyd-Williams for the past nine yeras the last six as his mother inlaw. David was always in good health and spirits up untill the 1st April, 1978 when his wife then left him. David then started to have fits of depression.

I used to see David every weekend since the break up of his marriage and the last couple of weeks he had been coming to my place for tea a couple of nights a week but he was still depressed and always thought that Christine his wife would come back to him. From about 1pm on Monday the 22nd August, 1978 David had been staying with me and my husband but he was still aggitated. About 8.30am this morning (24.8.78) I made himbreakfast and he seemed to be feeling better and he said to me that he was going to go home and clean his flat up. David was going to ring me up and arrange a time for him to come around for lunch but he didn't ring, so I rang his number but there was no answer. I then went around to his flat and knocked on the door but there was still no answer, so I let myself in with the key David had given me on Monday. David wasn't there so I left a note just inside the front door telling David I had to go to Town and I wouldn't be too late and for him to go to my place and have lunch as I had made it for him. When I returned home his lunch was still ~~was~~ there where I had placed it.
