IT'S A JUICE OF A JOB!

One of the lovely girls who will be helping roll out the barrel at Newport Hotel on Saturday is 18-year-old Michelle Napier, of Warrivood.

The reason for the barrels is a grape-crushing contest between 12 well-known celebrities who will be baring their feet to see who can squeeze out the most juice. The contest will be held early in the afternoon. All proceeds raised will be for the NSW Spastic Centre.

In that robbery, $4,000 worth of property was stolen.

$15,000 TAKEN BY BURGLARS

Jewellery and other valuables worth nearly $15,000 have been stolen from Peninsula homes during the past few days.

Jewellery a prime target

A Frenchs Forest couple returning from holidays have reported more than $12,000 worth of goods missing from their home.

Local detectives and the CIB Safe Breaking Squad found evidence that the front door lock had been forced.

They believe the theft occurred last weekend. The stolen property includes jewellery, stereo tape equipment, clothing, records, silverware and other dinner-service accessories.

The most valuable single item missing is a diamond ring worth $3,600.

Television

A paperback copy of Dostoyevsky's Crime and Punishment was also taken.

Police believe they have found evidence that links the thieves to a break-in at a neighbouring property seven months ago.

growing list of people robbed of their colour television sets. Thieves forced open a window while the woman went out for a short period.

Expensive

Nearly $2,000-worth of household articles were taken from a Lodge St., Manly, home during working hours on Tuesday. Once again, expensive stereo equipment and jewellery were the thieves' main targets.

While expensive electrical equipment can easily be disposed of locally, police believe most stolen jewellery is destined for either overseas or interstate.

Police yesterday appealed to all owners of valuable jewellery to have either photographs or sketches made of their property.

They advised that these be kept well away from the jewellery and preferably lodged with papers held by insurance companies or in bank safety deposits.

Tree felling stopped

Warrivood Shire Council acted promptly yesterday after residents of Parkland Road, Mona Vale, complained of trees being cut down.

The trees were on land used by Bayview Golf Club and were being cleared to extend a fairway.

A private contractor had been employed by the club to clear the land.

A number of large gum trees were among those cleared before residents complained to the Council.

A ranger was immediately sent to the scene and ordered work to be stopped.

Several trees had been felled before he arrived and residents say the gap left now gives an unsightly view of a nearby tip.

The Shire President, Cr D. Cragh, said a by-laws inspector had been approached by the club and had given permission for the work to be done.

Youth too

A youth stole $200 from a workmate to repay money he had borrowed from friends, Manly Court was told yesterday.

BODY NOT IDENTIFIED

Attempts are still being made to identify the body of a youth who fell to his death at North Head on Tuesday.

Mr Smyth told Conroy: "Your employer places trust in you to see that you don't touch valuable things or things that belong to relatives who contracted them yesterday."

Photographs and fingerprints of the dead youth are expected to be circulated today.

Michael James Conroy, 18, fitter, of West Balgowlah, pleaded guilty to stealing $200 at Brookvale between March 4 and March 23.

Mr G. Smyth, SM, deferred passing a jail sentence and put Conroy on a $300 good behaviour bond for three years.

Mr Smyth told Conroy: "You are a young man who has had to repay money he had borrowed from friends. He is a good worker and has a good record."

Det. S. Fitzgibbons (Manly) said Conroy had worked for the firm for two years and had a good record.

BAN ON BOTTLES TO BE CONTINUED

The ban on non-returnable bottles and ring-pull cans on Warringah Shire beaches and reserves will stand.

The Council's Parks and Reserves Committee this week rejected a request from the Australian Council of Soft Drink Manufacturers to lift the ban for six months.

This period was to permit sellers to receive stocks of the new "pop top" cans and plain-topped cans.

Cr D. S. Sainsbury said the manufacturers did not appreciate that the Council's ban applied not only to beaches but to all sports grounds where the rings could endanger players.
