I am writing to you in regard of the amount of $220- which was part of a loan of $2,900 the amount of $2,680 has been returned. I loaned the money (by cheque) to you for the purchase of a Motor car with your promise that it would be returned I am only asking for what rightfully belongs to me, as you know I made your son a gift of $500- towards the car which I think was a decent thing to do, but under the circumstances of me being accused of being mean + hungry for money, + my Mother being called a Selly Bad Woman which was not called for + I have not been too happy about, if she knew that she would sue your wife for defemation of Character, meanwhile I would like the money returned + the whole matter will be forgotten, if you do not intend to give it back I will ask Father, Nicholas to sought the situation out, or put it in my Solicitor hands.
