Clearly state what is required in the examination of the submitted items and prioritise their evidentiary value. ALL items must be discussed. Ensure exhibit book entries are submitted with exhibits. Failure to disclose all relevant information may delay this case or adversely impact upon any subsequent evidence or court proceedings.

On Monday 3 March 1997 the deceased was located at the Patrick Container Terminal, Millers Point Sydney. The body was found under a 10 metre cliff. The Coroner found the deceased suffered multiple injuries caused by a person or persons unknown. Investigators did not agree with this finding. They were of the view the deceased had accidentally fallen to his death while climbing over a security fence.

The exhibits are submitted with the objective of identifying any trace DNA on the items, signs of a struggle which may be evident from damage or stretch marks to any of the items.

Items three and four are blood stained. This blood is believed to have originated from the deceased.
