STATEMENT (continued) in the matter of: Murder of Kenneth BRENNAN
Name: Olivier LE-BOURSICOT

5. In the morning of Monday the 19th June 1995, I spoke with Detective TAYLOR from the Kings Cross Police. We spoke about me having a look at the unit so I could inform the owner and the cleaners of the work that would have to be done. Detective TAYLOR said that he would contact me later during the day with more details. He did not ring me during the day.

6. At 10.30am on the morning of Tuesday the 20th June 1995, I received a phone call from Detective MOSS, he requested that I attend the Kings Cross Detectives office to clear up the keys being missing from the key cabinet.

7. At 10.40am I arrived at the Kings Cross office, and I explained that when I had spoken to Detective TAYLOR I took the keys from the cabinet and placed them on my table, so when he called me I could just grab them and we could leave. That's why when Joanna went to look for them they were not there, but on my desk. Joanna looked this morning and I had already replaced them on the hook because they were on my desk all night. Since Detective TAYLOR did not ring I did not worry about it. I have since found out that Joanna went with Detective MOSS yesterday to have a look at the unit.

8. I know what happened at the unit, but I have not been to the unit at any time. I not interested in going to the unit by myself.
