My date of birth is [REDACTED] 1953.

On the morning of 11th January, 1992 at approximately 2.45am in the Emergency Department of the Royal Prince Alfred Hospital, I made a physical examination of the patient known to me as "UNKNOWN MALE" later identified as ROBERT HART MALCOLM.

The result of that examination was as follows:-

The patient had been transported to hospital by Ambulance, having been intubated by paramedics.

On examination he was deeply unconscious, with no evidence of central neurological function.

He was hypotensive, with a thready pulse.

The following injuries, confined to the head, were evident clinically:

- 1) Boggy swelling of the right side of the scalp, with possible underlying fracture of the parietal bone.
- 2) Damage to the right eye which had been partly pushed forward. There was blood in the eye.
- 3) Fractures of the bones of the middle 1/3 of the face, especially on the right.
- 4) A 5cm, deep laceration of the right cheek.
- 5) The front upper teeth were broken and/or missing.
- 6) There was bleeding from the nose and right ear, and possibly left ear.
