Dear Jacqueline

Thank you for your letter of 19 April.

We are instructed that Senior Sergeant Anne Coady of the NSWPF Forensic Evidence & Technical Services Command (FETS) is in a position to arrange for a NSWPF 'fingerprint expert' to attend FASS to inspect the white card next week, with a view to offering an opinion in relation to whether it is more likely than not that the brown mark is a fingerprint.

I am informed that Senior Sergeant Coady on Friday attempted to make contact with Michele Franco, FASS, to discuss arrangements for the inspection and any issues that may arise. I am informed that Michele Franco is unavailable until this Wednesday. A suitable fingerprint expert would be available to attend FASS to inspect the exhibit as early as Wednesday, 26 April.

Our instructing officers from the UHT generally defer to FASS regarding the appropriateness of forensic testing sequences, and where possible will engage with FASS to discuss available options depending on the nature of a particular investigation and state of any exhibits. In relation to the Crispin Dye matter (and other matters whether forensic testing is being proposed), our instructing officers will ultimately be led by the views of FASS in relation to the most appropriate testing sequences to maximise the prospect of recovering information of value, however would be grateful to be kept informed of the testing proposed to be applied to the exhibits in advance so that it has an opportunity to express any concerns.

Kind regards
